

RAFT & DRAFT | POLICY

1. About the publication

Raft & Draft is an independent literary journal for writers under 18. The journal publishes prose, poetry, and screenplays in Russian and English. Publication in the journal is free for authors.

2. Copyright

The author retains all rights to their work. By publishing a text in Raft & Draft, the author grants the journal a one-time right to publish it in online format. The journal does not claim exclusive rights and does not use the works for commercial purposes.

3. Requirements for participants

Authors up to and including 18 years old may submit. By submitting a work, the author confirms that they are its sole author and that the text is an original work.

4. Simultaneous submissions

We accept simultaneous submissions — you may send the same work to other publications in parallel.

5. Editorial decisions

The editorial team reserves the right to decline a work. All decisions are final. We try to respond to all submissions within 4 weeks.

6. Personal data

Data provided in the submission form (name, email) is used exclusively to contact the author as part of the editorial process and is not shared with third parties.
